NORTH CLINTON.

Died, on last Sunday, Mrs. John Dixon. She had been sick for some weeks. Pneumonia and fever were the causes of death.

FRANKLIN.

At the first meeting of the Harrell's Store Alliance, after the torch-light procession and speech by Senator Butler a few Saturday nights since there were, we understand, ten or twelve applications for membership into the Alliance. The great Alliance movement, strong as it already is, is certainly on a boom.

About three months since the Eastern Star Degree of Masonry was instituted at Siloam Lodge. Women are allowed to take this Degree. About twenty joined. Last Thursday was the regular monthly meeting of the "Blue Lodge" and the quarterly meeting for the members of the Eastern Star. The ladies prepared a sumptuous dinner. Masonry is on a boom here. At least a dozen members have been added to this lodge within the last year and there are now two or three new applications now in.

There are more hogs and better hogs in this section than we have had for many years. If cholera does not make its appearance, nearly every one will make enough meat for two years ahead. We have the finest potato crop we have ever seen. Cotton, corn, and in fact every crop this year is far above the average.

Mr. Usher Newkirk has a tame crow. It stays about the yard and caws with the chickens, goes into the house and out at pleasure. It sometimes spends the day abroad in the woods or swamp but comes back before night every time. The strangest thing about it is that it has learned to talk. It will say "good morning" to members of the family and calls out "mama" to Mrs. Newkirk when it sees her passing about.

On last Thursday night Mr. Marion Butler delivered a lecture on the principles of the Alliance at Kerr's station. There was a good crowd out, and we have heard some who were opposed to the Alliance say that it was a great and noble Order, and that they had not understood it before. At the close of the lecture Prof. I. Royal, the County Organizer, who present, proceeded to organize a Lodge at that place.

A "Dark Completed" Hen Story.

Henry Taylor reports that a "dark completed" hen, belonging to Abraham Herring, layed 43 eggs, not at one "sitting" but before "setting." Henry himself is dark "completed" and also his story is not without coloring.—Burgaw Herald.

LOCAL ITEMS.

—Hear Mr. Beddingfield at the Fair to-morrow.

—Pay your subscriptions on the Fair Grounds to Capt. T. D. Smith. —Mr. King, of Franklin county, took several premiums at the Atlanta Exposition on farm products.

—In discussing the Thanksgiving question the turkey prefers to remain on the fence.—New Berne Journal.

—THE CAUCASIAN will be represented by Capt. T. D. Smith on the Fair Grounds on Thursday and Friday. Give him your name.

—Be on the lookout for thieves and pick-pockets. The town is full of gamblers. Can society have no protection against such a scourge?

—One of our exchanges says: "Drop a year's subscription in the slot and see the editor's smile." Try THE CAUCASIAN office and see how it works.

—The Burgaw Herald says: Rev. Dr. B. F. Marable will preach in Burgaw on the Fifth Sabbath and on Saturday night before. All are invited.

—Clinton is the cheapest and best market in all this section for groceries, clothing, dry goods and millinery. Read the advertisements in THE CAUCASIAN.

—The leaves of the trees in their autumnal colors are beautiful. A drive or a walk into the country is a rich treat just now to all admirers of nature in its loveliest aspect.

—Our esteemed countryman, D. B. Nicholson, Esq., will be a candidate for Reading Clerk of the Senate. He served in that capacity with marked efficiency in the Senate of 1886 and 1888.

—As a local paper and advertising medium, THE CAUCASIAN not only deserves but wins recognition. Its circulation is large and growing larger each week. If your name is not already on the list, now is the time to place it there.

—The Sampson Fair open yesterday. It is in full blast to-day and will reach the climax to-morrow, which is Farmers' Day. Be sure to hear Mr. E. C. Beddingfield, the State Secretary of the Farmers' Alliance, who speaks Friday.

—"Dunraven Ranch," the great serial story, which we start with this issue is a capital novel. It is written by no less an author than Capt. Chas. King, of the U. S. A. The descriptions are fine and the plot is strong. Be sure to commence with this issue.

—"Money makes the mare go," and it takes money to keep a first-class paper going. If you do not take this paper, help to make it better and more influential by subscribing. If you are a subscriber, help us by paying up promptly, if you have not done so.

—We must apologize to the readers of THE MOUNT OLIVE TELEGRAM this week. The rush of Fair work and one of our printers sick in addition, cause us to be unable to get out THE TELEGRAM this week. So we send a copy of this paper, THE CAUCASIAN, to each subscriber.

—Senator Vance writes a long letter stating that bad health and urgent private business, much to his regret, prevents him from coming to the Sampson Fair as he expected to do. In closing his letter he says that we cannot regret his inability to come half so much as he does.

—Subscribe for this issue and don't miss that great serial story, "Dunraven Ranch." It is a strong story of twenty-seven chapters and the interest grows from the first chapter to the last. The story if bound in book form would alone cost the subscription price of the paper.

—"Eternal advertising is the price of trade. Some argue that it is expensive to advertise. It is the most profitable expense you can have, if you handle it properly. This is not a mere assertion, but a demonstrated fact, proven by the prosperity of all successful advertisers.—Herderson Gold Leaf.

—Correspondents to insure immediate publication of communications must get them to Clinton by Monday night. Sometimes we are unable to get them in when they come later, but often it is not so. We never omit them purposely. A good plan is to send up the communication on time, and if anything of importance happens later, send on a postal card.

—Congress meets again next week. This session, in view of the recent elections, will be one of unusual interest. We have made arrangements for a condensed yet full account of what is done each week. The Legislature meets the first Wednesday in January. The editor of this paper will write from Raleigh each week, giving a full account of the doing of that body. No paper will keep you better posted on what these two legislative bodies are doing. Subscribe now.

—A New York business man says that from 75 to 80 per cent. of the capital invested in that city represents the earnings of men who began life poor. The same would soon be the case here if every laboring man in the town would take stock in a Building and Loan Association, or in some manufacturing enterprise, but the business men of the town are in a moribund state still (not all of them, but enough)—chill to make any progressive movement hang fire), so the surplus capital of the great bulk of the population is wasted week after week. "What fools we mortals be!" About the middle of the 20th century our grand children will wake up in the middle of the tail end of progress and—and try to do something to gain less time.

—Dr. B. F. Marable delivered an excellent and eminently timely and practical sermon in the Presbyterian church here on last Sabbath. Text: "Ye are the light of the world." After elucidating the text, describing the conditions under which the divine words of prophecy were spoken, showing how we can have no conception of what they might have been had sin not entered at the Garden of Eden, yet every generation is confronted with terrible condition of humanity where the light has not entered, he drew this deduction: That the Christian people in every community are responsible for the public sentiment and moral state of society that there exists. He came home to illustrate this deduction. He said by actual count three-fourths of the citizens of Clinton are Christian people or claim to be. Three Christians for every non-Christian of religion, three children of God appointed to lead every child of Darkness to the light. Should not the moral tone of this community be very high. If these Christian people have done and are doing their duty it should soon reach or already be at the high water mark. The able divine then went on to classify the different kinds or rather degrees of Christians and to dissect each under the strong calcium light of divine truth. We predict that the sermon will do much good. It will awaken the self-satisfied Christian to a sense of his duty—this done and then there is some hope to awaken the sincere and open his eyes to the divine light of Christian truth as shown by example.

Excuse Us, But We Must Call On You Again.

Is your subscription paid up? If not, we respectfully and earnestly ask you to do so at once, for we greatly need the money. All thro' the summer, when times were hard and money scarce, we indulged you, and did not harass you with ceaseless and importunate dunning, but to me both ends meet, we had to put ourselves to no little inconvenience and discomfiture. On many a Saturday night have we found ourselves with only $10 or $15.00 collected that week, while the amount that we owed and had to pay for printers, press hands, paper, etc., that amounted to $30 or $35.00. We were hard run, but knew that you were hard run too, and would not trouble you by asking for the small amounts due; but now a bounteous and remunerative crop has been made and more money is in circulation than for years, so we must ask and expect each and every one to come forward before the first of January and settle the amount due or as much of it as possible.

The Newton Grove Dinner.

On last Saturday we had the pleasure of attending the Democratic dinner given by the people of Newton Grove in honor of the great people's victory. It is needless to say that it was a big success, after we state that the ladies turned out in full force and managed the occasion, for everything that the women of this country take hold of is a success, and because they are always on the right side. Mr. C. B. Aycock, of Goldsboro, who was to be the orator of the day for some reason was not able to present. This was quite a disappointment to everyone for all had anticipated a rare treat from that able and gifted young man. Not being able to do any better they pressed this writer into service for a talk. Representative-elect, R. H. Bell made the introductory talk in his jappily style. The speaking over, five hundred people or more, betook themselves with appetites, whetted by delay, to a sumptuous table, over a hundred yards long, which was covered by the good ladies with everything to tickle the palate. The excellent dinner and the presence of the ladies themselves were fitting tributes to so great a victory so nobly won. Everything passed off in the best of humor, and we hope that the occasion has done much in the interest of harmony. Our thanks are due the ladies for their thoughtful kindness. Knowing that we are an unfortunate bachelor they sent to our office a basket laden with some of the many delicacies they had prepared for the occasion of rejoicing.

"The Fairest of the Fair at the Fair."

We acknowledge the courtesy of a complimentary ticket to the 21st Annual Fair of the Sampson County Agricultural Society, Nov. 26th—29, in Clinton, N. C. Mr. W. K. Pigford is President and Jno. A. Oates, Esq., is Secretary. Sampson not only stands up when "fig blues" are called, but is in view when fine farms, nice stock, beautiful horses, and pretty girls are to be seen. Her fair ones are always the fairest of the fair at the Fair. We are sorry we can't go.—Burgaw Herald.

Beddingfield Coming!

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 24, '90. Capt. John A. Oates, Clinton, N. C. Notwithstanding pressing duties at home I will come to Clinton Friday. E. C. BEDDINGFIELD.

THE EXHIBIT

BY THE SAMPSON COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

THE 22nd ANNUAL FAIR.

Floral Hall—Farmer's Hall—Fast Racing—Fine Stock and Tip Top Poultry Show.

SPEECH MAKING—THE BALL AND MANY OTHER ATTRACTIONS.

Special Attractions To-day and To-morrow.—Be Sure to Come.

The 22nd Annual Agricultural Fair of Sampson county was formally opened yesterday by President Pigford. Chief Marshal Holmes and his handsome assistants were on hand and finely mounted. The weather is fine and everything starts off smoothly. Tuesday was the entry day, but articles to be placed on exhibit continue to roll in. It is time to go to press, but just go with us a minute and take a hurried glance at some of the exhibits:

Walk up stairs and take a peep at

LADIES' DEPARTMENT.

The embroidery, quilts, cloth, carpets, rugs, tidies, crochet work and fancy needle work of nearly every description.

Walk down to the middle of the hall and see the exhibit of fruits, cakes, jellies, wines and peaches, and further on the display of butter, bread, lard, cooked meats, &c. This department is under the management of Mrs. Anna Stanford.

FRUIT EXHIBIT.

Down at the end of the hall, is the ART EXHIBIT, made under the management of Miss Sadie Faison, art teacher at the Clinton Female Institute. It is one of the prettiest exhibits on the grounds. Some of the pictures are very handsome and show unusual artistic skill.

Near this exhibit stand two large globes of water full of playful gold fish.

Down in Farmer's Hall can be seen some fine corn, potatoes, peas, pumpkins, &c., as is grown in the world. The hay is fine. The cotton is high grade and not a single bale is covered with jute. In one end of the hall is an interesting display of veneering, native woods and manufactured products of the Carolina Veneer Works, by Mr. A. F. Johnson.

Now let us run around the circle and see the stock, &c. First look at the HOG EXHIBIT.

The picture tells the story. If the cholera does not catch us, Sampson will make enough meat this fall for two years.

Next glance at this pen of

CHICKEN SHEEP.

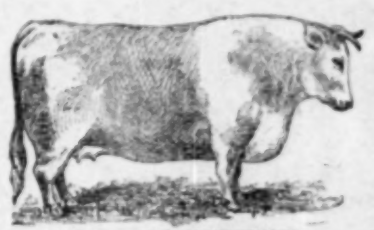

And thousands of them would be raised were it not for the howling sheep-killing curs. Look just ahead at this fine lot of

FAST COWS.

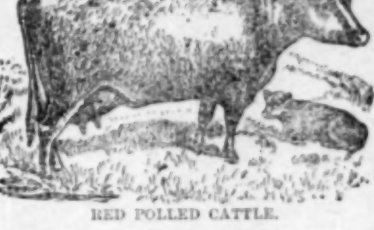

They are all fast stock and three of them have taken premiums at the fastest three year olds at our neighboring fairs at Goldsboro, Fayetteville and Maxton. The draught and stock horses we have time to see this evening.

In that stall to the left is a fine

FAT SHORT HORN HEIFER.

And in those stalls just below are the

RED POLLED CATTLE.

In that next pen are

SOME CALVES.

These are not very fine looking, but they are fine thoroughbred stock and will give more milk than the Jerseys, which most of the people here admire.

But we must close, but first come down and see the

POULTRY EXHIBIT.

It would take an hour to go through and examine all the poultry from this fine

PAIR OF DARK BRAHMA.

Down to the other end of the row where there are two beautiful

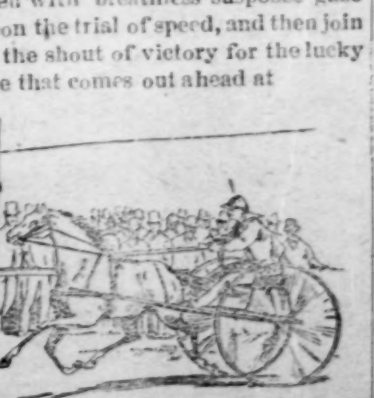

BLACK CAYUGA DUCKS.

Let everybody go Thursday and Friday and see the fine racing. See the steeds of metal go DOWN THE HOMESTRETCH.

Then as they start neck and neck and then with breathless suspense gaze upon the trial of speed, and then join in the shout of victory for the lucky one that comes out ahead at

THE FISHAL.

Let everybody come and let every one make up his mind to enjoy it.

THE BALL.

The young people had on their best look and were in their happiest mood in Atkins' Hall last night. They threw their souls into the entrancing whirl of the bewitching light fantastic till after the wee sma' hours. Such again will be the case to-night and to-morrow night. These balls are given under the auspices of Agricultural Society. The music by the string band from Raleigh is fine. A finer opportunity to kill time, the young people, so included, will get.
